

JURY'S DECISION ON THE 2018 "ANTONIO MORENO ESPEJO" JOURNALISM AWARD

21 January 2019

The Jury of the "Antonio Moreno Espejo" Journalism Award have decided to give the award to the following article:

- "Cómo podemos los padres enseñar finanzas a los hijos" ("How we parents can teach our children about finance"), written by Ana Palomares and published in El Economista.

The Jury have underlined the fact that the work meets all the criteria established in the prize call for entries: the rigour and technical quality of the work, the extent to which it promotes transparency in the securities markets and the protection of investor interests. In addition, they have highlighted the originality of its approach, the amount of research carried out and sources referred to in order to produce it, as well as its informative nature and its promotion of financial education.

128 articles published in 23 different media were entered into this second edition of the prize.

CNMV created this award in memory of Antonio Moreno Espejo, who was a member of the institution's staff from its inception in the late eighties until his untimely death in January 2017. The award carries a cash prize of 15,000 euros and will be presented at a public ceremony.

The members of the Jury of this second edition were as follows:

Ángel Benito, a CNMV commissioner, who will act as chairman;

Elisa Ricón, General Director of Inverco (the Association of Collective Investment Schemes and Pension Funds);

Jorge Yzaguirre, Chairman of the Spanish Institute of Financial Analysts;

Isabel Giménez, General Director of the Financial and Stock Market Studies Foundation.

CNMV would like to thank the members of the Jury for taking part in the procedure. The high level of participation of media professionals and the quality and thematic diversity of the works entered show the support given to the Prize and the values that it pursues, which were also shared by Antonio Moreno Espejo during his professional career.

For further information:
CNMV Communications Office
Tel.: 91 5851530
comunicacion@cnmv.es
www.cnmv.es

