OVERVIEW

- On March 23, 2018, we raised our unsolicited foreign currency long-term sovereign rating on Spain to 'A-' from 'BBB+'.
- Following the sovereign upgrade, on April 6, 2018, we took rating actions on several Spanish banks, some of which are counterparties for the transactions affected by today's CreditWatch placements.
- On April 17, 2018, we revised our outlook assumptions for the Spanish residential mortgage market to benign, to reflect the improved Spanish residential mortgage and real estate market, and lowered our projected losses at the 'B' rating level for the archetypal Spanish pool.
- Following the application of our structured finance ratings above the sovereign criteria, our counterparty criteria, and our European residential loans criteria, we have placed on CreditWatch positive our ratings on 213 tranches in 82 Spanish RMBS transactions.

MADRID (S&P Global Ratings) April 24, 2018--S&P Global Ratings today placed on CreditWatch positive its credit ratings on 213 tranches in 82 Spanish residential mortgage-backed securities (RMBS) transactions (see list below).

Today's rating actions follow the March 23, 2018 upgrade of Spain and the subsequent raising of our issuer credit ratings (ICRs) on the counterparties in some of these transactions, and consider our updated outlook assumptions for the Spanish residential mortgage market (see "Spain Long-Term Ratings Raised To 'A-' On Economic Growth And Budgetary Consolidation; Outlook Positive , " and "Reduced Funding Risks Lead To Upgrades At Several Spanish Banks," published on April 6, 2018, and "Outlook Assumptions For The Spanish Residential Mortgage Market," published on April 17, 2018).

We have considered the application of our structured finance ratings above the sovereign criteria (RAS criteria; see "Ratings Above The Sovereign - Structured Finance: Methodology And Assumptions," published on Aug. 8, 2016). These criteria classify the sensitivity of these transactions as moderate. Therefore, the highest rating that we can assign to the senior-most tranche in these transactions is six notches above the sovereign rating on the country in which the securitized assets are located, if certain conditions are met. For all the other tranches, the highest rating that we can assign is four notches above the sovereign rating. As a result, our maximum potential rating in transactions with underlying assets in Spain is now 'AAA (sf)'.

Following the sovereign upgrade, on April 6, 2018, we raised our long-term issuer credit ratings (ICRs) on Banco Santander S.A., Banco Bilbao Vizcaya Argentaria S.A., Caixabank S.A., Bankinter S.A., Bankia S.A., Banco de Sabadell S.A., and Abanca Corporación Bancaria S.A., which are counterparties for some of these transactions. Given the upgrades of these entities, the maximum achievable rating is now higher under our counterparty criteria (see "Counterparty Risk Framework Methodology And Assumptions," published on June 25, 2013). The specific ratings cap depends on the replacement provisions and remedies described in the terms of their agreements.

Our European residential loans criteria, as applicable to Spanish residential loans, establish how our loan-level analysis incorporates our current opinion of the local market outlook (see "Assessing Pools Of European Residential Loans , " published on Aug. 4, 2017). The criteria's benchmark assumptions for projected losses assume benign starting conditions, in other words, a positive or stable outlook on the local housing and mortgage markets. If the starting conditions are adverse, we modify these assumptions.

Our current outlook for the Spanish housing and mortgage markets, as well as for the overall economy in Spain, is benign. Therefore, we revised our expected level of losses for an archetypal Spanish residential pool at the 'B' rating level to 0.9% from 1.6%, in line with table 87 of our European residential loans criteria, by lowering our foreclosure frequency assumption to 2.00% from 3.33% for the archetypal Spanish residential pool at the 'B' rating level (see "Guidance: Methodology And Assumptions: Assessing Pools Of European Residential Loans," published on April 17, 2018).

Following the application of our RAS criteria, our counterparty criteria, and our European residential loans criteria, we have placed on CreditWatch positive our ratings on 213 tranches in 82 transactions as we need to conduct a full analysis to determine the impact of our recent upgrade of Spain and some of the counterparties on these transactions and our updated outlook assumptions for the Spanish residential mortgage market.

We will seek to resolve the CreditWatch placements within the next 90 days.
