AMAGVIK Int. AG: Bafin prohibits company from offering participation certificates to the public

On 27 May 2026, the Federal Financial Supervisory Authority (BaFin) prohibited the public offering of participation certificates of AMAGVIK Int. AG, based in St. Gallen, Switzerland, due to a violation of the German Capital Investment Act (VermAnlG). For this reason, AMAGVIK Int. AG may not offer its own participation certificates to the public in Germany.

This measure has not yet become final but is immediately enforceable.

The prohibition was imposed because AMAGVIK Int. AG has not published a prospectus approved by BaFin for the public offering of such capital investments that contains the information required under the German Capital Investment Act.

Background:

In Germany, capital investments may be offered to the public only if a prospectus has been published. This prospectus must be approved by BaFin prior to publication. During the approval process, BaFin checks whether the minimum information required by law is included in the prospectus and whether its content is understandable, coherent and consistent. However, BaFin does not check whether the information contained in the prospectus is correct. Moreover, it does not check whether the issuer is reliable nor does it examine the product in question. Issuers of capital investments must ensure that this is clearly indicated in their prospectuses. The issuers are liable for the accuracy of the information contained in the prospectus.

You can check whether an approved prospectus for offers of capital investments to the public has been filed with Bafin by consulting the database Prospectuses filed on the Bafin website.

Please note:

Bafin performs its functions and exercises its powers exclusively in the public interest in accordance with section 4 (4) of the Act Establishing the Federal Financial Supervisory Authority (Finanzdienstleistungsaufsichtsgesetz – ↗ FinDAG).
