Wednesday, 2 June 2010

The Spanish National Numbering Agency (Agencia Nacional de Codificación de Valores: ANCV) has created a new section within its website entitled: Financial Instrument Short Name. It reports on international standards, in its final draft, ISO 18773 and 18774 used by the ANCV to identify the issuer short name and financial instrument short name.

In addition to the description of the Standards and the inclusion of several examples, there is a link to a list of financial abbreviations used by the ANCV to describe the main characteristics of the financial instrument.
