INSIDE INFORMATION

The Government of Saudi Arabia, through its Ministries of Transportation and Logistics and Finance, has awarded a contract for the manufacture and maintenance of 20 new high-speed trains. This new contract, to be carried out through the Saudi Spanish Train Project Company (SSTPC), which is responsible for Phase II of the Haramain High-Speed Railway project, and of which Talgo is a member (its scope of work being the manufacture and maintenance of these units), will add 1,332 million euros to Talgo's order backlog, reaching a record high of nearly 6,000 million euros.

On 8 of February of 2026, the Saudi Government formalized the acquisition of these 20 new units, which will be produced having the same technical requirements as the series of 35 previously manufactured by Talgo and which have been operating in Saudi Arabia since 2018.

Additionally, the contract term for Phase II of the ‘Haramain High Speed Railway’ project, which this client has with the Spanish consortium for the Operation and Maintenance period, has been extended, with Talgo being the company in charge of maintaining all the units that will make up the expanded fleet - the 36 existing ones and the 20 additional ones - for a period that could reach the year 2038.

The awarding of this contract consolidates Talgo's position in Saudi Arabia and supports its international growth strategy, with the Middle East as a key player in railway investment and expansion.
