Rounded data

Highlights of the main molecules

Very positive evolution with excellent performance in both direct sales and Licenses

Bilastine

134.2 M€

Strong performance throughout the year, with growth of +8% driven by positive performance in both licensing and direct sales, particularly in Latin American countries.

Calcifediol

63.5 M€

Sales growth for the molecule of +8%, mainly driven by the performance of license sales and direct sales in Latin America and Portugal.

Mesalazine

21.6 M€

Mesalazine is the molecule with the highest percentage growth, at +46% compared to 2024. In this case, growth is driven by the strong performance of the product license in Poland and good performance in Portugal.

Revenues by business area

Rounded data

Pharma Iberia, sustained growth in prescription and the incorporation of Laboratorio Edol

Iberia revenues: 230.8 M€ +11%

/01

SPAIN +0,1%

Prescription grew slightly +2% with positive evolution especially in bilastine +3% and the respiratory franchise which grew double digit +18% gaining competitiveness.

This growth offsets the temporary slowdown in Healthcare & consumer (-2%), we are continuing with the strategy initiated at the end of the year, focusing on priority brands to drive this division forward.

PORTUGAL +68%

Growth mainly in prescription +11%, highlighting the behaviour of calcifediol, offsetting the performance of some healthcare products.

Incorporation in June of Laboratorio Edol, progressing at a good pace.

Revenues of Pharma Iberia in €M

Spain

Portugal

Pharma International, Latam as the growth engine

International revenues: 207.7 M€, +43%

/01

LATAM +20%

Latin America is the company's main area of organic growth. Chile +12%, Colombia +19%, Ecuador +34%, Peru +28% and Mexico +34% continue to grow at a good pace, focused on the strategy of promoting strategic products. The Mexican market is the most important and has the greatest potential, with future synergies with SIFI Mexico.

/02

ROW (Rest of the World) +88%

Row (excluding SIFI) +5%, moderate revenue growth and margin improvement, supporting a solid foundation for future growth.

Completion of the acquisition of SIFI in September, adding four monthsh of revenue.

Revenues of Pharma International in €M

LATAM

Rest of the world*

SIFI

Licences, good performance across all molecules

Licences revenues: 113.2 M€ +9%

/01

BILASTINE +3%

Bilastine continues to grow, driven mainly by Asia Pacific, with good overall performance in both mature markets and expanding territories, offsetting pressures in Canada and Europe from generics.

/02

OTHER LICENCES +37%

Performance in this area has been exceptional, driven mainly by strong growth in mesalazine, which has consolidated its leadership in Poland with a 60% market share, as well as a notable increase in the Nordic countries.

Meanwhile, calcifediol continues to expand strongly in Eastern Europe thanks to the redistribution of regional agreements, which increase local sales, with particular relevance in Eastern Europe, France, and Italy. By 2026, we expect traction in new markets such as Greece, Australia, and the nordic countries, where it has recently been launched.

Licences revenues in €M

Bilastine

Other Licences

Animal nutrition and health

FARM Faes revenues: 79.6 M€ +52%

/01

Significant growth in revenue, with the ISF business as the main driver, with revenue continuing to exceed expectations. Margins are under pressure from the product mix.

FARM Faes strengthens its leadership in animal nutrition, especially in the piglet segment, thanks to the new ISF plant.

Discipline in capital allocation.

Solid balance sheet and strengthened liquidity.

P&L

Highlights 2025

/01 – Income

- Double-digit growth exceeding guidance, driven by International Pharmaceuticals and licensing, demonstrating the robust growth of the three strategic molecules as a whole. The addition of Edol in June and SIFI in September raises growth to 23%.

/02 – Expenditure

- Increase in expenses in line with the priorities of the strategic plan, together with expenses arising from M&A operations and restructuring.
- Impact of non-recurring expenses during the year for the new Derio plant of €10.7 million.
- Increases in depreciation due to the start-up of new plants and the incorporation of SIFI and Edol.
- Financial expenses arising from financing for acquisitions.

/03 EBITDA

- Both EBITDA from organic business (-5.3%) and adjusted EBITDA (the former excluding extraordinary costs in Derio, +3.1%) ended the year in line with guidance.
- Reported EBITDA includes the two M&A transactions, both their contribution and the costs arising from the transactions, including restructuring costs.

Free cash Flow. Resilience in a year of inorganic growth

/01 – Working capital

Increase resulting from the rise in stocks related to the transfer process to the new plant in Derio and the integration of Sifi and Edol.

/02 – Capex

Decline in investment following the approval of the Derio pharmaceutical plant and the start-up of the ISF plant for animal nutrition.

/03 – Financial expenses

Increase derived from bank debt obtained on favourable terms to finance acquisitions.

/04 – Taxes

Normal tax burden following the application of deductions for the start-up of Derio in 2024.

Capital allocation aligned with our Strategic Plan

Execution of two inorganic growth operations in 2025 to support and accelerate the Group's growth and expand both its product portfolio and international presence.

Throughout 2026, the move to the new Derio plant will be completed, thus culminating the largest organic investment in the history of Faes Farma.

Commitment to R&D supported by improved governance, dynamic pipeline management and a hybrid model with external collaborations.

Maintaining strict financial discipline with a long-term debt ratio of less than 2x and conservative management of debt maturities.

Commitment to an attractive dividend policy compatible with the policy of international expansion and both organic and inorganic growth.

Solid balance sheet, strengthened liquidity and comfortable maturity profile

2026 Guidance and main drivers

Main growth drivers 2026

- / Growth in the strategic international areas of LATAM and Gulf offsetting the impact of the LOE of the bilastine license in Japan.
- / Full incorporation fo SIFI and Edol.
- / Commercial synergies reinforcing the presence in prescription the omnichannel approach established in Faes Spain and Portugal.
- / Growth of SIFI supported by the launches of Akantior and new CDMO contracts.
- / Transfer of production activity to Derio. Operational efficiency plan.

*Including the remaining extraordinary costs from Derio.
